Press Release Summary: CPASiteSolutions, leading provider of websites for accountants, announces a new Google Analytics service.

Press Release Body: Winooski, VT July 25th 2007—CPASiteSolutions (www.cpasitesolutions.com) announced today the addition of a new marketing service to their Internet marketing services for accountants: the installation, maintenance and coaching in the use of the Google Analytics website statistics system.

Getting a new website for your firm is quick, easy and inexpensive.

According to Brian O'Connell, President of CPASiteSolutions,
"while

CPASiteSolutions websites are already a powerful marketing tool for accountants and CPA's, with the Google Analytics system, it becomes even more powerful." CPASiteSolutions' clients can now easily and closely track their users' activity on their website and use that information to optimize their web marketing campaigns.

Along with the installation of this new tool, CPASiteSolutions clients receive expert coaching on the use of the Google Analytics tool and in interpreting the usage data it generates.

This new service is included with the Platinum level service, which also includes a professionally designed website, over 3,000 pages of content, secure encrypted file transfer, email hosting, and a full suite of online marketing services for CPA and Accounting Firms.
