Press Release Summary: Joppa, MD September 16, 2008—With the growth of new EZShield initiatives, Custom Direct sees it necessary to have a Certified Fraud Examiner as part of its organization. Ryan Browning received his certification from the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners in September to further the opportunities of Custom Direct and its EZShield products.

Press Release Body: As Custom Direct continues to grow with new EZShield programs, the need for Certified Fraud Examiners is imperative. Because it is the only international organization that operates solely to prevent and resolve fraud-related occurrences, The Association of Certified Fraud Examiners was the best opportunity for Custom Direct. The Association of Certified Fraud Examiners is the leading anti-fraud corporation and has been fighting against fraud for over twenty years. The ACFE works to increase the knowledge about fraud through the education of professionals everywhere. By doing so, the ACFE strives to reduce the incidence rate of corporate fraud.

Ryan Browning, a graduate of Towson University and former U.S. Army Combat Engineer, is currently the only professional at Custom Direct to become a Certified Fraud Examiner. In order to acquire this certification, Mr. Browning had to pass an exam of approximately 525 questions that related to fraud legislation, investigation, and prevention. Mr. Browning and the Custom Direct organization have many expectations for his new certification. Through the AFCE, Custom Direct will receive information and training on the newest trends in fraud. These updates will allow Custom Direct the opportunity to combat fraud by developing or revising EZShield products. Also, this certification will put affiliates and business partners at ease when dealing with Custom Direct and its EZShield programs.

When asked about his new CFE status and the benefits that it will bring to Custom Direct and EZShield, Mr. Browning said, "Our job at EZShield is to develop fraud prevention and protection products and programs that are not only the recognized vanguard in functionality, but also the leader in platform integration and reporting flexibility."
