Press Release Summary: There are hundreds of skin care and anti-ageing products sold in the market. All these products promise one thing, to keep the skin young looking. Through this reviews, the public will be equipped with ideas about these products for them to make a good investment.

Press Release Body: Bryan, TX – November 24, 2008- Beautiful Review, an online based company dedicated to providing unbiased reviews on leading cosmetics, skin care, and anti-ageing products, announced their findings after concluding their review on six other skin care products. The company has been providing several other reviews in the past.

Products reviewed include companies providing skin care formula and therapy and leading cosmetics available today. The company's latest findings cover AlphaDerma CE, Derma Wand, Hydroderm, La Mer, Meaningful Beauty, and Natural Advantage.

The rest of the sections are the results of the study:

AlphaDerma CE - Alphaderma CE is an expensive skin care formula manufactured by Janson Beckett's company. The product contains Dimethylaminoethanol (DMAE) which research shows to help develop alertness and vigilance; in some cases it shows to reflect a positive mood impression. DMAE also helped in extending the lifespan on the subject of the study.

Other ingredients labeled on AlphaDerma CE include Argireline and Vitamin C Ester, Elastin, and Soy. Elastin is a protein found in connective tissues that is proven to help restoring tissues of the body to its original shape.

What the public should be aware:

The product does not contain Hyaluronic Acid which a common ingredient on most skin care formulas. HA is proven to help the skin look younger, smoother, and more radiant.

Derma Wand - Derma Wand is a hand held device effective for maintaining and developing healthy skin. It works similar to treatment done in spa where parts of the face are massage. The process helps in tightening and lifting the area of concentration making it younger looking when done regularly. It also helps increase the Collagen presence of the body to enhance the skin.

What the public should be aware:

The product has not yet been proven effective and no research is associated with the product. The company is offering free trials of their product for interested individuals.

Hydroderm - Hydroderm, a California based company that manufactures several skin care products including exfoliates, moisturizers, creams, and anti-ageing products. Hydroderm's Age-Defying Wrinkle Reducer is formulated to deliver a "brighter and smoother" skin.

What the public should be aware:

Hydroderm's Age-Defying Wrinkle Reducer does not label a complete list of ingredients used including what type of Collagen is used. It is unknown if it contains ingredients including Hyaluronic Acid and Matrixyl 3000 that are commonly found in leading anti-ageing products. In addition, there is still no related research about the product posted on the manufacturer's website.

La Mer - La Mer is a well known maker of luxurious skin care and anti-ageing products. Among their pride is the Crème de la Mer that carries the company's success. It is known to be a product of "miracle broth", a process popularize by former NASA scientist, Dr. Max Huber. The company's website offers an FAQ page to direct visitors with their basic inquiries.

What the public should be aware:

Crème de la Mer is an expensive product and introduced at prices close to $110 per ounce. It does not contain Collagen-boosting ingredients as what most anti-ageing products offer.

Meaningful Beauty - Meaningful Beauty Facial Masque is a product of Dr. Jean-Louis Sebagh, a renowned dermatologist based in Paris. The company manufacturers other line up of skin care and anti-ageing products. Meaningful Beauty Facial Masque contains several ingredients including water, Ginkgo Biloba Leaf Extract, Eucalyptus Globulus Leaf Oil, and Cucumis Sativus (Cucumber) Fruit Extract.

What the public should be aware:

The product contains basic ingredients found on most anti-ageing products, but does not contain Hyaluronic Acid and Argireline®. Most products sold in the market contain Hyaluronic Acid as a major component in their formulation.

Natural Advantage - Natural Advantage is an anti-aging system designed to help develop and restore youthful glow of the skin. The starter kit is composed of three individual products to keep a fresh feeling, protect against sun's harmful effects, and help prevent wrinkles. This includes Natural Advantage® Daily Cleansing Gel (2 oz.), Natural Advantage® All Day Moisture with SPF 15, and Natural Advantage® Nighttime Renewal Complex.

What the public should be aware:

From the findings, the products presented may not contain any presence of Matrixyl 3000® as compared to other known products sold in the market.
