Press Release Body: Statistics say that 50% of driving accidents involve drinking. The fact that half of the fatalities related to driving are caused because of someone's inability to react normally is very alarming. Why does it take a fatal accident for someone to realize that they may have a problem? Why does it take a person to kill someone to finally go and get help? And better yet, how do you know the best place to go.

There are many different rehabilitation centers out there that claim that they are the best and can help with addiction treatment but how do you make the decision of choosing which one is truly the best? Cliffside Malibu is an exclusive, full service residential treatment center. They are located north of Zuma Beach just outside the Los Angeles area. The scenery is amazing and the atmosphere gives the elite the perfect amount of privacy, peace and tranquility that may be needed to overcome such a disease.

There is always a fine line when talking about the topic of alcoholism. If you do not have a drink all week, then drink excessively on the weekends are you an alcoholic? If you have 2 or 3 drinks a night to "relax" does this make you an alcoholic? Some people will say that yes indeed you are. The question is, when do you know that you have a problem?

At Cliffside Malibu, they guarantee complete satisfaction. They pride themselves on their highly qualified professionals that are trained to support each individual for just about any addiction, including alcoholism. The alcohol rehab program that they have in place is not like any other that is out there. They recognize all of the different types of alcohol addiction and understand that it affects each individual both physically and psychologically in different ways. They offer rehabilitation that includes detox, group therapy if needed, individual therapy, anxiety treatments and many other alternative medicine options.

This alcohol rehabilitation center caters to the elite, and offers elegantly furnished rooms, gourmet meals, transportation, laundry services as well as internet access. Because alcoholism is a psychological disease that can lead to catastrophic effects, comfort and getting a good night's sleep is crucial to the healing process.

Cliffside Malibu has seen many different walks of life from well known artists, high ranking politicians, movie stars and famous musicians. All of these people were not embarrassed to admit that they have a drinking problem and enrolled in this alcohol rehab center. They were evaluated, and treated with the utmost respect by the experienced staff.

There are many stereotypes that are out there regarding alcoholics and going to rehab, but it does not have to be the horrible, painful experience that people create in their heads. With the proper care and private secluded setting, Cliffside Malibu is just the place to get the privacy and treatment needed to have a successful future as well as the comfort to know that there is always a place they can go if needed.
