Checks is known for its wide variety of check designs that includes a little bit of everything. With designs for hobbies, international destinations, universities, and more, Identity Checks appeals to a large selection of customers. The addition of the new "Endless Summer" check design, which features the artwork of Paul Brent, will expand the existing assortment and fit right into the special interest category of the website.

On October 17, 2008, Identity Checks released the new "Endless Summer" check design through its website, www.IdentityChecks.com. The new designs feature colorful drawings by Paul Brent, a very talented artist that specializes in nautical art. The personal checks offered with this new pattern consist of four rotating scenes with illustrations of surfboards, classic cars, palm trees, Hawaiian shirts, a beach, and dancing dashboard hula girls. Each design is full of color to give a bright and relaxing feel to the checks. The self-adhesive address labels are identical to the personal checks in featuring all the scenes, while the personal contact cards and fabric checkbook cover each portray only one. The contact card features two Ford Woodys with surf boards on top while the fabric checkbook cover portrays a line of brightly colored surf boards lined up on the beach.

Even if a beach-themed check design is not for you, Identity Checks is sure to have something you will love. Whether you are part of the military or simply like a certain NHL team, Identity Checks is certain to have a product or check design for anyone. Visit the site today and find something that truly fits your personality!
