Press Release Summary: Communicaid is a leading language, cultural training and communication skills consultancy achieves ISO 9001 and 14001 certification in November 2008

Press Release Body:
Communicaid, Europe's leading Cultural training & Communication Skills Consultancy, is delighted to announce that the British Accreditation Bureau has awarded ISO 9001:2000 and ISO 14001:2004 certifications to Communicaid's UK training operations. These certifications prescribe systematic control of activities to ensure that the needs and expectations of customers are met and ensure that Communicaid's management, design and quality control procedures as well as its environmental management systems match the highest international standard of service delivery.

ISO 9001:2000 recognises organisations with a quality management system that consistently provide services that meet customer and regulatory requirements. This certification is awarded to companies that enhance customer satisfaction through quality programmes. ISO 14001 is an internationally accepted standard that addresses an organisation's ability to implement an effective Environmental Management System. This standard is designed to address the delicate balance between maintaining profitability and reducing environmental impact.

Cora Malinak, Communicaid's ISO Quality Manager, commented, "We are delighted to be awarded these certifications. Achieving ISO 9001 and 14001 certification is testament to Communicaid's commitment to customer satisfaction and continual quality assurance and it highlights our efforts to reduce the impact our business has on the environment. Our clients demand the best, and our goal is to meet and exceed their expectations. The ISO 9001 and 14001 achievement will improve Communicaid's competitive position and significantly improve service and quality across our whole business."
