Online Talent Contest – 1Click2Fame launches Boot Camp Competition has been intensifying recently on 1Click2Fame: the online talent competition that is scouring the internet for the next big thing.

A promotional banner for the 1Click2Fame talent contest. The background is dark blue with a silhouette of a person's head and shoulders, looking upwards. A bright light source, possibly the sun or moon, is visible in the sky, creating a lens flare effect. The text "The ground breaking fame making talent site" is written in a stylized, purple, 3D font across the left side. On the right side, there is white text that reads: "Got what it takes to be a star? The online talent contest where the UK's best battle it out to win prizes and fame. You watch, you vote, you decide who wins our weekly prizes to take talent to the next stage." At the bottom right, there is a black button with the text "Get involved" and a white play button icon.

1Click2Fame was launched in December 2008 and is becoming increasingly popular with online artists. Giving away prizes of up to £100,000, it is not surprising that the quality of entrants is increasing day by day and has already been labelled the online version of 'Britain's Got Talent'.

Talented young dancers, musicians and variety performers from across the UK have been battling it out, seeking votes and fans in an attempt to finish top within monthly competitions and secure their place at the Boot Camp quarter finals.

Thousands of performers have entered but only eleven talented quarterfinalists have been selected by the online voting public. Winners will spend the weekend perfecting their acts at LABAN, London's premier contemporary dance school, where they will be given the opportunity to work alongside the following high calibre and experienced industry professional:

- Stevie Lang – Vocal coach who has worked alongside Elton John, Lulu, Bryan Adams, Queen, Girls Aloud, Robbie Williams, and the Sugar Babes.
- Ryan Chapman – Dance extraordinaire who performed at the closing ceremony of the Beijing Olympic Games.
- Jayne Collins – Casting agent who has worked on TV shows such as Dirty Dancing, Green Wing, and music promos for stars such as The Pussy Cat Dolls.
- Steve Weiner – Fresh new comedian who has recently won Hackney New Act of the year 2008, and has performed on BBC, Sky and channels 4 and 5.

At the end of the weekend the eleven performers will perform their final acts which will be judged by fans from the website. One winning performer will receive £25,000 to help their campaign and secure a place in the April finals where £100,000 will be up for grabs.

Nicholas Steinberg, producer of 'PopStars the Rivals', the show that launched Girls Aloud, will be filming the stresses, strains and successes of the event which will all be available to view from the website.

Jonathon Lakin, CEO of 1Click2Fame.com said:

"The standard of the entries on 1Click2Fame just keeps getting higher. It is extremely rewarding for us to be able to give such talented people the public platform they deserve and allow them to bring their performances to the widest audience possible through our website. Here at 1Click2Fame we are helping people turn their dreams into reality. The website acts as a stepping stone to help performers build their careers and a fan base. There are no losers at 1Click2Fame."

Bands, singer/songwriters, magicians, and comedians will all be battling it out in the online talent competition to secure their place in the Final. The competition will be diverse, intense, and should make for some top quality entertainment. The quarter finalists have got talent in abundance and should put on a great performance.
