

Learning to Rock Climb with Ascent Adventure Consultants

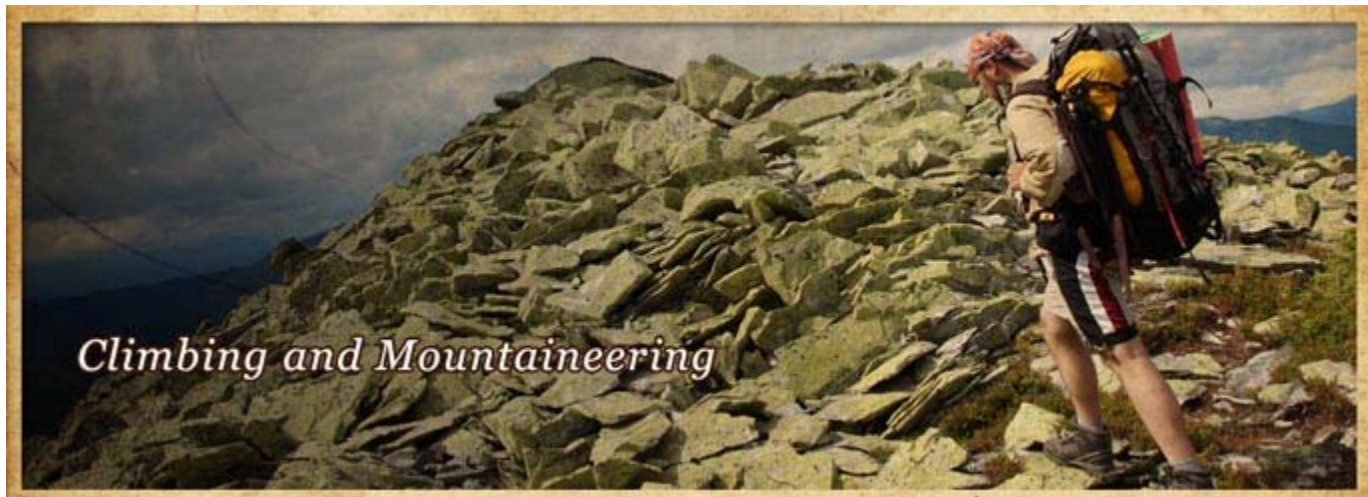

Released on: July 9, 2009, 4:41 am

Author: Ascent Adventure Consultants

Industry: Sports

Raleigh NC based climbing guide company Ascent Adventure Consultants is rapidly becoming the preferred company in the Southeast to guide and instruct rock climbing courses for people who desire to learn the exhilarating sport.

July 8, 2009 - Apex, NC - Started as a small local rock climbing guide service and team building company, Ascent Adventure Consultants has rapidly grown in popularity over the past year and half. They have become known as the go-to source to learn the sport of rock climbing, whether it is rock climbing technique or technical skills such as rope management and anchor building. By conducting surveys and client interviews, the resounding opinion is that Ascent Adventure Consultants provides the best climbing guiding service for several reasons: they care for each client and customize programs to match their personal goals, which makes Ascent more accessible and makes the company and guides easier to relate to because they do not carry themselves as some elite group of climbers but as people who love working and teaching others, they offer a variety of climbing programs to make sure that whether someone is a beginner or an experienced climber, there are programs that will help each individual grow and gain the knowledge and skill they need, and also they partner with community organizations to build value in the services they offer, such as with Triangle Rock Club, Morrisville NC based indoor rock climbing gym.

"Brandon is a true professional when it comes to guiding climbs. He's an excellent teacher, and his problem solving ability is extraordinary. During the first hour of my first outdoor climb, I encountered an obstacle I didn't think I could overcome," expresses Katie, an Ascent Adventure Consultants Climbing client. "After twenty minutes of attempting to negotiate the obstacle, I shouted, 'Brandon? I don't think I can make it across this gap to scale that overhang the way you just did. How do we get down?' He said, 'We can't get down from there. If you can't do it that way, let me figure something else out.' He drew from his experience and came up with a creative solution that kept me in the game. He continued to impress me throughout the trip with his patience, encouragement, and skill. I am definitely looking forward to my next climbing experience."

For an interview, or to find out more information about the unique services Ascent Adventure Consultants provides, please contact Brandon Hensinger at bhensinger@ascenadventure.com or 877-254-4617. Also, visit the Ascent Adventure Consultants North Carolina Rock Climbing website to learn more.

Ascent Adventure Consultants is a Raleigh, NC based professional rock and ice climbing guiding and instruction provider, as well as a corporate team building and leadership development program provider. Climbing courses and team building programs are conducted locally, nationally and internationally.

###

Contact: Brandon Hensinger
Ascent Adventure Consultants
bhensinger@ascentadventure.com
919-345-1087