LAS VEGAS - August 19, 2009 - The DebtBuster Corporation (DebtBusters), the nations most trusted debt settlement firm, announced today that it has been recognized as one of three finalists in the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce Small Business of the Year competition. Small Business of the Year, awarded as part of the LVCC Annual Biz-E's honors a for-profit venture with 50 or fewer employees, demonstrates commitment to community stewardship and is active in the business community of Southern Nevada. The final event, and announcement of the winner will take place at The Rio Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas, NV the afternoon of September 17th, 2009.

David Fishman, the owner of The DebtBuster Corporation, gladly accepts the recognition as a finalist on behalf of his employees. "This is a great honor", said Mr. Fishman who is also known as Dr. Debt, "we really couldn't have done this without our great staff and our dedication to excellent customer service. Our goal is to assist everyone that needs help with credit card debt, regardless of whether or not they become our client". Mr. Fishman went on to say that people who need debt relief, don't generally ask for it until it's too late. "Bankruptcy alternatives are available for most people", said Mr. Fishman, "if you know where to look".

DebtBusters also received a letter from The Honorable Lorraine Hunt-Bono, one of the Nevada Commissioners, offering them congratulations on the achievement. "As a positive influence in our business community", remarked Commissioner Hunt-Bono in her letter, "you are to be commended for your accomplishments".
