New Hampshire Ski Group has announced that international customers visiting the state to enjoy a skiing holiday can have access to five different mountains all on one pass, as well as a free day's stay when a six day visit is booked.

Fifteen hotels are participating in the offer from the New Hampshire Ski Group USA, a deal which is unrivalled by other New England ski resorts.

The ski resorts in New Hampshire included in the five mountain pass feature a variety of well maintained ski runs suitable for every level of skier. Cannon Mountain, located in the Franconia Notch State Park in the Great White Mountain National Forest, in particular has a wide range of ski options available and has received five top ten rankings in SKI Magazine and was ranked number one in the 'Classic Mountain' category by readers of Snoweast Magazine.

Commenting on the new deal, Mike Breakwell, New Hampshire Ski Group's UK and Ireland representative, said: "The unique Five Mountain Ski Passport means people can ski or board on up to five mountains in a single visit to New Hampshire. Loon Mountain, Cannon, Waterville Valley, Cranmore and Wildcat are all within 20 minutes of hotels in the area, so it's really easy to combine 2 or mountains into your stay to give variety and different experiences on the slopes."

"We are also delighted that the 15 hotels which help make up the New Hampshire Ski Group are all matching this with a fantastic Stay 7 Nights, Pay 6 offer, which means you can extend your stay at little extra cost, which works well with daily flight schedules available into New Hampshire."

About the New Hampshire Ski Group:
