The last experts researches show that many companies begin to overcome the economic crisis. Probably this is connected with a general improvement of the economic situation or with structural changes in companies.

One of such successfully run companies in travel industry is our "Orpheus Luxury Travel" company in Cyprus.

There is no necessity to list all our merits and quantity of employees. Unique information about the company and its services, is possible to find on company's website. The most important thing is a mobility and using new methods in development in an uneasy situation. Employees' creation thinking helps to resolve diverse problems.

A good reputation allows us to carry on negotiations with hotels on favourable for us conditions. The contracts, concluded earlier, give us an opportunity to offer our clients the best rates, better than someone from our competitors offer.

Efficiency of our personnel, unique database allows to expand cooperation area with others tour operators and agencies in many countries in difficult economic conditions. Our company takes part in many traveling exhibitions from London to Russia.

Thanks to all this our company coped with crisis and offers cooperation to all, who is capable to work effectively in the new conditions.
