

BA Staff on Strike: Alternative Cheap Flight Options

Released on: December 15, 2009, 8:15 am

Author: Skyscanner Ltd

Industry: Travel

Following the news of BA strike action, which will last 12 days, from 22nd December 2009 to 2nd January 2010, Skyscanner is helping worried passengers find alternative cheap flights.

The strike will be hitting Christmas and New Year travellers hard, coming at one of the busiest times of year for travel and disrupting plans for an estimated one million passengers, especially those taking flights to New York for the festive season.

At the time of writing, BA had not yet released details of the flights that would be affected by the strike, but some passengers are already booking alternatives, not wanting to risk the chance of being unable to reach their families at Christmas.

"We've already seen an 11% rise in user traffic to Skyscanner since BA's announcement of strike action. Right now, it looks like everyone is waiting for more information; no one wants to buy another flight unless they're sure they have to.

"But there will be big search spikes once BA release details of which flights will be affected so it's worth checking out the alternatives now in case your flight is affected" said Sam Baldwin, Skyscanner travel expert.

If you are looking for alternative flights, visit Skyscanner.net to see what your options are.

Skyscanner – never miss a flight

Since Skyscanner was founded in 2002, our mission has been to create the first website in the world to show every single commercial flight on earth – hence our slogan – never miss a flight.

By comparing hundreds of airlines and thousands of routes, we make it easy for you never to miss a flight deal. With over 600 different carriers and 670,000 different routes listed, we're getting closer to this goal every day.

PR Contact:

Sam Baldwin
Skyscanner Ltd
Stamp Office
10 Waterloo Place
Edinburgh
EH1 3EG

+44 (0)131 252 5353

www.skyscanner.net

~~~~~

Press release distributed via EPR Network (<http://express-press-release.net/submit-press-release.php>)