FreeCraigslistAds.com just launched a product that makes it easier for online classified ads users to sell their products or services. With the free CraigslistAdsMaker sellers can design a professional classified ad webpage instantly and have it posted to online classified ads lists in minutes.

With the popularity of online classified ads websites, Craigslist and other online classified ads lists have thousands of new ads listed each day. To get sales, sellers need to stand out against all those other ads that are posted on a daily basis. That's where FreeCraigslistAds.com comes in. FreeCraigslistAds.com provides free one-page websites that sellers can use on any online classified ads site.

FreeCraigslistads.com makes the process easy to apply to any product or service. Because the software generates the ad, users need no programming experience, they can simply choose a template, fill out a form to add content, and add photos. The website ad features the ability to upload unlimited photos and to choose from a variety of templates. The FreeCraigslistAds.com smart engine will generate the free one-page website, which can be distributed as a flyer or ad on Craigslist or any other classified website.

The newly created SEO-friendly one-page website will be seen on Google searches as well as in FreeCraigslistAds.com's Ad Gallery. The process is completely free and no registration is required. Step by step instructions guide users on how to post the newly created ad to online classified sites.

Though this option provides sellers ample exposure for free, FreeCraigslistAds.com offers upgrade options, as well.

The premium user upgrade has proved popular for online classified users wanting even more exposure. Registering as a premium user costs $9.99 per year. The premium membership offers detailed statistics on ads, premium visibility on the first page of the website, which also improves visibility in search engines, and unlimited ads without banners or advertisements.
