

Celebrate death How is that possible?

Released on: November 20, 2008, 10:38 am

Press Release Author: Level 343/Gabriella Sannino

Industry: Internet & Online

Press Release Summary: The death of a loved one brings grief, sorrow, and tears, but the founders of ThingsNeverSaid.com want to help you turn your sorrow into a celebration of life and love.

Press Release Body:
How is that possible?

With
a ThingsNeverSaid.com virtual memorial. A virtual memorial is a personalized webpage that allows for the expression of feelings and appreciation for one lost. This online memorial lets you tell others about the life and accomplishments of your loved one while you share and receive encouragement, support, and comfort from friends and family members who visit to pay tribute themselves.

Friends and family can stop at your ThingsNeverSaid virtual memorial as often as they wish. There, they will find comfort and enlightenment through shared memories and comments. They can also contribute their own thoughts and feelings to the virtual memorial.

When you visit ThingsNeverSaid.com you'll notice the calm and soothing atmosphere, simple layout, and easy to follow instructions.

Clicking the "About Us" tab introduces the site creators, whose mission is to create a heartwarming and heart-healing place for you to visit, grieve, and say the ThingsNeverSaid by creating a virtual memorial.

Once a virtual memorial has been set up, friends and family can find it by using the "Search" tab. Florists, funeral homes, and similar service providers can be found by utilizing the "Local Search" tabs.

Grieving is a difficult process, as unique as each individual. Help is available and readily found by browsing our extensive listing of helpful websites. Through this page you can contact support groups, counselors, and outreach groups that offer understanding, comfort, and guidance as you cope with death, loss, grief, and recovery. Help is just a click away; go to the "Get Help" tab to begin your journey.

The "Charities" tab opens a listing of worthy organizations where you can make a donation in tribute to your loved one. Included are various programs related to branches of the Armed Forces as well as specific disease-related research funds, children's organizations, and nature conservation projects. Linking your loved one's name with an honorable cause can help ease the loss and encourage others to assist. Volunteering your time to promote a worthy cause will make you feel better and give you an opportunity to share your thoughts and feelings with others as you continue down the road to healing.

The process of creating a virtual memorial is simple. View the "Sample Pages" for ideas, then click on "Add Someone" to get started. Biographical information about your loved one will help tell the world who they were, what they liked, and the things they accomplished in their lifetime. Photos and video clips bring your virtual memorial to life, offering vivid testament to the character of your cherished friend or family member.

ThingsNeverSaid offer three membership levels: one year, five years, or lifetime. Prices are affordable for most any budget and allow you to create a loving tribute through a virtual memorial.

Visit them and create a legacy for your loved one with a virtual memorial.

About

ThingsNeverSaid

ThingsNeverSaid.com is an online memorial site, created by Farhad Dan Ahdoot and Wallace Sermons, as a place for grieving family and friends to share stories, love and laughter for those that have passed. With the help of other websites, esteemed charities, and projects that honor fallen soldiers and world tragedies, they hope to create a place where people can celebrate life and pay tribute to the memories of loved ones.

Web Site: <http://www.thingsneversaid.com>

Contact Details: Contact: TNS Management

Email: Support@ThingsNeverSaid.com

Address:

11140 Rockville Pike Suite 100 # 283

Rockville, MD 20852

Phone: 800-976-3580